Mack Jackson

BOARD MEMBER PROFILE

Mack Jackson is an educator, administrator, pastor, and community servant whose life and career reflect a longstanding commitment to education, faith, leadership, family, and service.

With more than 18 years of experience in education, Mack has served in instructional, administrative, and student-support roles. During his 13-year tenure at NTCC, he served as Campus Dean and Financial Aid Officer, providing campus leadership while helping students access the resources and guidance necessary to pursue their educational goals. His experience also includes teaching 10th-grade Civics for two years and serving as a paraprofessional educator for three years.

Mack is a graduate of Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond, Louisiana. He is also a proud member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., reflecting a continued commitment to scholarship, leadership, service, and community engagement.

In addition to his career in education, Mack has devoted nearly four decades to ministry. He has been preaching for 39 years and has served as a pastor for 20 years, providing spiritual leadership, mentorship, encouragement, and support to individuals and families.

Born in Independence, Louisiana, Mack later relocated to Mississippi, where he spent six years caring for his mother until her passing in February 2026. His dedication to family extends to his role as a father and grandfather, roles he deeply values and that continue to shape his commitment to helping future generations thrive.

As a member of the G.L.O.W. Literacy Initiative, Inc. Board of Directors, Mack brings a valuable combination of educational leadership, student services experience, ministry, mentorship, and community service. His background equips him to contribute thoughtful guidance as G.L.O.W. creates meaningful opportunities for girls in grades 1–8.

Mack is committed to supporting G.L.O.W.'s mission of empowering girls through literacy, leadership, confidence-building, and enrichment. He believes that education, encouragement, strong mentorship, and positive role models can help young people recognize their potential and build a strong foundation for the future.

Through his service with G.L.O.W., Mack looks forward to helping create a safe and supportive environment where girls are encouraged to develop their voices, strengthen their confidence, embrace leadership, and pursue their goals with purpose.

His commitment to education, faith, family, leadership, and service embodies the heart of G.L.O.W.—creating opportunities for girls to learn, overcome, and win.
